

Situation Report: Dengue Fever Outbreak in Delhi, India

PUBLIC HEALTH ALERT BULLETIN

Date: October 26, 2023 Subject: Elevated Dengue Fever Activity - Delhi

Emerging Threat Level: High

Summary: An increase in confirmed Dengue fever cases has been observed in Delhi. Recent reports indicate severe symptom presentation. The outbreak's persistence beyond the monsoon season necessitates increased vigilance.

Key Trends: Elevated case numbers, coupled with reported severe illness, indicate a heightened risk. Ongoing surveillance and rapid response measures are crucial to mitigate further transmission. Public health interventions must be intensified.

Emerging Threat Level: High

The confirmed increase in Dengue cases in Delhi, combined with the reported severe symptoms, warrants a "High" threat level. The ongoing nature of the outbreak, even after the monsoon season, suggests a need for heightened surveillance and public health interventions to control the spread.
